↓ NEW! OWNER HELP SITE ↓

We have heard that communication is an area that needs improvement and hopefully you've already noticed, but this is something we are committed to doing this season!

It's no secret that many of our owners look for and share information on Facebook (yes, we're aware, we have Facebook too you know...). We also know that, believe it or not, sometimes the information available on Facebook isn't always accurate. We want to make sure owners have quick and easy access to information on everything and anything Sherkston. Want to know how to order propane? If the store is open? What's on the Boston Pizza menu for takeout? How to read your hydro bill? What colour to paint your living room? Well, with our new plans... we've got you covered (ok maybe not on that last one).

We've created a brand new owner help site that will answer all of these questions and more. You can find it on www.sherkstonowners.com under "Owner Knowledge Base". Now, we aren't exactly fond of that name, "Knowledge Base", and we were thinking you might want to get in on some fun in helping us name this new site. If we choose your name, there will be a $100 Boston Pizza gift card 🍷 waiting for you! Click here to send in your suggestions.

We look forward to seeing everyone this weekend and we ask for your complete cooperation to help keep our amenities open and the resort safe!
